

Conjunctions

Guided Practice Ideas Continued

Sentence Combination

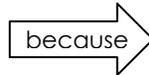

Write sentences, clauses, and phrases, such as the ones in the left hand column on pieces of paper, the board, or present orally. Instruct students to combine using the conjunctions given. Create your own!

Combine:

Conjunctions:

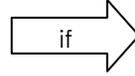

Answers:

the car crashed
the roads were slick

The car crashed because the roads were slick.

it may snow tonight
it gets below 32 degrees

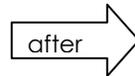

It may snow tonight if it gets below 32 degrees.

people walked on the moon
America was discovered

America was discovered before people walked on the moon.

Lincoln was the president
Truman was the president

Truman was the president after Lincoln was the president.

the smart kid listened
the teacher spoke

The smart kid listened while the teacher spoke.

time ran out
he scored a touchdown

He scored a touchdown as time ran out. (or vice versa)

* * * * *

Advanced Sentence Combination – Instruct Students to combine three phrases with limited use of the word and. Refer to sections on embedding.

- 1) the pen was blue; the pen broke; the pen fell - The blue pen broke after it fell
- 2) the boy was inside; he took off his sunglasses; he could see better – The boy took off his sunglasses inside so he could see better.
- 3) she decided not to use her umbrella; her umbrella was broken; it was raining – She decided not to use her broken umbrella, although it was raining.
- 4) he put a stamp on the envelope; he sealed the envelope; he mailed the letter - Before mailing the letter, he sealed the envelope and put a stamp on it.

Functional Activity Ideas

Activities

Look in a cookbook. Identify Conjunctions. Follow directions in a recipe. Talk about the conjunctions used.

Talk about the rules for a favorite game. If possible talk about reasons for the rules using conjunctions.

Example Statements

“Put the ingredients in a bowl before mixing them together.”
“Mix the ingredients until all the lumps are gone.”

“You collect two hundred dollars when you pass go.”
“The other team gets the ball whenever there’s an interception.”